

RGB Challenge

Something to Think About!

Now that you know more about you, how can you apply the lessons learned to your relationships at work, home, professional groups, neighborhood . . . ? What are the implications of your behaviors compared to someone with the same dominant color and to someone with a different dominant color? How can you make those relationships collaborative versus competitive? If you've completed the RGB, invite someone to take it online and get their profile. Go to www.qualityofworklife.com/rgbinventory.htm!
